Sky office

DÜSSELDORF, GERMANY

The Sky Office is a 23-story office building designed by Christoph Ingenhoven, opened in May 2009.

At 89 meters tall, it is the seventh-highest building in the city, offering approximately 30,000 m² of commercial space. The building also features two underground parking facilities and is surrounded by a small park. It has become a notable landmark due to its striking architectural design and prominent location. The interior is characterized by floor-to-ceiling windows that create a bright, open atmosphere. The ground floor is highlighted by a unique terrazzo floor, which contributes to a modern and welcoming environment.
